

Didymus Ink – Art for Everyone

July 2026 Newsletter

Highlights

Summer has been filled with creativity, community, and exciting new beginnings! As our family business continues to grow, we're thrilled to introduce a brand-new monthly feature created by one of our own artists, while continuing to bring face painting, temporary body art, books, and artwork to events throughout Southwest Washington. Thank you for supporting local art and helping us spread creativity one smile at a time!

1. Didymus Ink Around Town

Milestones

June was packed with wonderful opportunities to serve our community through art. We were blessed to be a part of 3 different events that helped benefit the families affected by the Nippon disaster. We entertained some feline friends, and enjoyed the newer sunny weather. Whether painting faces at local events, meeting new families, or sharing our books and artwork, we're continually reminded that art has the power to bring people together.

We're now booking events throughout the remainder of the summer and fall!

Announcements

Didymus Ink is currently booking:

- Birthday Parties
- Festivals
- Church Events
- Community Celebrations
- Corporate Events
- Private Face Painting Events

If you're planning an event, we'd love to help make it unforgettable!

2. Meet Our Newest Newsletter Contributor

Beginning this month, the Didymus Ink Newsletter is expanding!

Jordan Thomas will now have her own page in every issue where she'll introduce readers to the original characters, stories, artwork, comics, and creative world she's building. This month's issue marks the debut of what we hope will become a favorite feature for readers of all ages.

Jordan's Introduction

Heya! I'm Mocking-J!, You can call me Jordan♥!

I'm an independent artist and writer who's also working on fursuited currently and V-tubing in the future! My pronouns are she/her and I am originally from California, so I guess I'm a California girl.

I'm a big fan of FNAF, Undertale, Demon Slayer, TADC and One Piece.

My page of the newsletter will consist of my OCs and the world I created just for them. I'll also be telling you about what's happening in my life, as well as making funny doodle comics and possibly (looking around for MatPat) THEORIES!

I hope I can make your day whimsical and happy, like Caine made my day!

Luv ya!

— JT

Community spotlights

This month reminded us that creativity belongs everywhere. Every painted face, every conversation, every smile, and every piece of artwork reminds us why Didymus Ink exists—to make art accessible to everyone.

Hotrods for HEVIN

Every smile tells a story, and we love being part of yours.

Bingo by the Lake in support of the Nippon disaster

Thank you for supporting struggling community members, local artists and family-owned businesses throughout our community.

Thunder Mountain Tattoo Expo

Unique and creative, just like everyone of us

Didymus Ink

About us

Didymus Ink is a family-owned, faith-based art business built on the belief that creativity is for everyone. What began as a shared love of art has grown into a mission of bringing joy, encouragement, and imagination to our community through face painting, temporary body art, mural art, window paintings, original crafts and artwork, books, classes, and creative experiences.

Every member of our family contributes their own unique talents and passions, making Didymus Ink a true family effort. Together, we strive to create lasting memories, inspire creativity, and remind people that art has the power to connect hearts, build community, and brighten someone's day.

Meet the family behind Didymus Ink.
